A FRIEND.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constipation the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, breast, and body," writes Miss JAMES G. KEET, of 719 L. Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

J. G. Keet, Esq.

No Milk But Still A Milch Cow.

Since Webster defines "milch cow" as one giving milk or kept for its milk, does the term mean a cow that is actually giving milk, or does it include a heifer that has never given milk but may, some day, if all goes well? This is the question in controversy in Patterson vs. English 142 Southwestern Reporter, 18. The question arises under a statute exempting from forced sale "milch cows," a levy having been made on certain heifers and the claim made that certain heifers are exempt as "milch cows." The following in effect, minus many citations, is the interesting theory on which the Texas Court of Civil Appeals proceeded in arriving at a determination.

"The policy of the courts of this state is, in all cases, to give a liberal construction to our exemption laws, and in doing so they have held that a dray is a wagon, an automobile is a carriage, a diamond is wearing apparel, a piano is household and kitchen furniture, that horse includes saddle and bridle as well as the shoes on its feet and rope and martingales around its neck. And this spirit of liberal construction has indulged until they have held that an unbroken colt is a horse, and even that a mule removed as he is one degree by consanguinity, is nevertheless a horse. Furthermore, in their effort to extend the humane and beneficial character of our exemption statute, they have been so blind to every other consideration that they have looked upon the mule's father and pronounced him—voice, ears and all—a horse. We think a heifer with a calf in the natural order of events is nearer a milch cow than a mule is a horse, and that the spirit of a law which can convert a jackass into a horse should be made to cover a parturient heifer—yes, all three of them—under its protecting wings until time can bring them safely within the letter of the law."

Ended For All Time.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 13.—That the Hatfield-McCoy feud, one of the oldest and bloodiest in the West Virginia-Kentucky border, has ended for all time to come, was indicated to-day when Dr. H. J. Hatfield, cousin of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, leader of the Hatfield clan, received a telegram from A. J. McCoy, leader of the McCoy faction, endorsing his candidacy for Governor of West Virginia.

The telegram was dated at Princeton, W. Va., and read:

"Greetings to Dr. Hatfield from A. J. McCoy. Congratulations. That you may win in November is my desire."
